Course Rotation for Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Curriculum and Instruction

Please consult the following course rotation schedule to assist you as you create your Plan of Study. The courses below are only offered during the indicated semesters. The Department of Curriculum, Culture, and Educational Inquiry strives to meet the following timetable, but all course offerings are subject to change.

Please Note: Students should refer to the Program Description for other required and area of specialization courses.

Fall Semester

EDG 6224 US Curricular Trends and Issues
EDG 6253 Design Components of Curriculum
EDG 6285 Program Evaluation in Curriculum and Instruction
EDF 6800 Foundations of Global Education
EDF 6918 Action Research in Schools and Communities

Spring Semester

EDG 6224 US Curricular Trends and Issues
EDG 6253 Design Components of Curriculum
EDG 6285 Program Evaluation in Curriculum and Instruction
EDG 6625 Global Perspectives of Curricular Trends
EDF 6918 Action Research in Schools & Communities

Summer Semester

EDG 6224 US Curricular Trends and Issues
EDG 6622 Document and Assessment
EDG 6625 Global Perspectives Study Abroad