

Department of Teaching and Learning

Master's Degree (M.Ed.) in Social Foundations: Instructional Technology

Information Sheet

The Master's Degree in Instructional Technology program provides an opportunity for students to earn a 36-credit masters degree. This program provides students with the necessary background to enable them to utilize, implement, and maintain modern technology in the field of education and training. The program includes coursework in research and statistics, software programming, instructional design, and distance learning. If you have questions about any of the course work before being admitted, please contact the Department of Teaching and Learning at DeptTeachLearn@fau.edu.

Core Courses: 6 credits

Take both of the following:

STA 6113	Educational Statistics
EDF 6481	Educational Research

Technology Core Courses: 12 credits

Take all of the following:

EME 6051	Models of Learning and Instruction
EME 4411	Educational Programming 1
EME 6413	Educational Programming 2
EME 6601	Instructional Design

Elective Courses: 18 credits

Choose six 3-credit courses:

EDG 6255	Instructional Program Development
EME 6209	Self-Regulated Learning Systems
EME 6414	Educational Programming 3
EME 6426	Administrative Applications of Educational Technology
EME 6716	Organization and Management Learning Technologies
EME 6945	Field Experience in Education and Technology (1-8 credits)
EME 6623	Education in the Digital World
EDG 6255	Instructional Program Development
EME 6415	Courseware Design

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the Master's Degree in Instructional Technology program requires submission of the graduate application form. You will find information about the application process at <http://graduate.fau.edu/GradApp/> . You may complete the actual graduate application at <https://gradapp.fau.edu/GradApp/Default.aspx>. In addition, in order to be considered for the Degree Program, you must submit the following documentation.

1. Official transcripts of all undergraduate coursework.
2. A bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited college or university.
3. Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores.
4. Evidence of Professional Certification or eligibility for Temporary Certification.

Departmental approval will be contingent upon:

A grade point average (GPA) of 3.00 or better in all work attempted while registered as an upper division student working for a baccalaureate degree;

OR

A minimum combined score of 1000 (quantitative and verbal) on the Graduate Record Exam (GRE). Graduate Record Examination scores must not be more than 5 years old (unless age of score is waived by petition submitted with application)

OR

A graduate degree from a regionally accredited institution.

All College of Education Programs are approved by the Florida Department of Education and the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). This State and NCATE approval represents the transferability of your teaching credentials from state-to-state. Please keep and consult the Florida Atlantic University catalogue from the semester that you were admitted to the program, for more details regarding your program.